

STEVE FOGG

Director

Steve's career began 33 years ago as a bookkeeper in a skilled nursing facility, but his affection for seniors started long before. As part of a five-generation family of care providers, he grew up spending hours with facility residents. "It shaped how I truly feel in my heart about the people we serve, and is one of the reasons I love what I do," he says.

He graduated from Portland State University with a degree in business administration, and immediately devoted himself to senior health care. He's served as Chief Operating and Financial Officer at Prestige Care, and is now Chief Financial Officer for both Marquis Companies and Consonus Healthcare.

Supporting charitable causes has long been important to Steve. He's a board member at Friends of the Children, and he's a past president of the Oregon Health Care Association, having served on their board since the late 90's.

In his role with Vital Life, Steve is focused primarily on fundraising and strategic planning, as he works with other board members to increase support and meet bold objectives. He gets passionate when he talks about the Foundation, and what he takes as a very personal call to service. "There's so much we can contribute to the needs and mission of our partner organizations," he says, "and clearly a lot of people aren't in the same position to help."
