

MEAGAN ENGLISH Secretary

With more than 15 years of experience in senior care leadership, Meagan English brings deep expertise in people development, organizational culture, and purpose-driven leadership. Meagan serves as Secretary of the Board for the Vital Life Foundation and is the Chief People Officer for Marquis Companies, Consonus Healthcare, and AgeRight.

Throughout her career, she has held roles spanning campus administration, home-based care leadership, and enterprise operations. Today, she oversees executive succession planning, leadership development, talent strategy, and intentional culture initiatives across multiple organizations. Her work centers on identifying and nurturing emerging leaders and ensuring compassionate, values-based care remains at the heart of senior living.

Meagan is passionate about shaping the future of senior care by investing in people, helping individuals grow, lead with authenticity, and thrive in meaningful careers. In addition to her service with Vital Life Foundation, she serves on advisory councils for higher education institutions and contributes to industry leadership initiatives.

She holds a bachelor's degree in healthcare administration from Oregon State University and a master's degree in management, strategy, and leadership from Michigan State University. An accomplished speaker and best-selling author, Meagan lives in Oregon with her husband and two children and is an active supporter of community and youth-focused organizations.
